L. Deane Wilson, MA, ASA is the Managing Partner for The Blackwell Group, a real estate appraiser firm with offices in Southern and Northern California. He graduated from BIOLA University with a Bachelor of Science degree in Organizational Leadership, and has a Special Major Masters Degree from California State University, Sacramento in Land Use Ethics. Mr. Wilson has earned the Senior Real Property appraisal designation awarded by the American Society of Appraisers. He is an International Instructor for the ASA and served as the Chairman of the International Real Property Committee of that organization from 1999 through 2002. Mr. Wilson has instructed formal real estate appraisal courses for the American Society of Appraisers in Eastern Europe (Ljubljana, Slovenia) sponsored by the Agency for the Privatization of the Republic of Slovenia, in conjunction with the World Bank. He has also instructed courses throughout the United States and in Mexico City on every level of Real Estate Appraisal, including USPAP for the American Society of Appraisers and the Appraisal Institute. He is an AQB Certified USPAP Instructor.

Mr. Wilson is a Course Developer for the American Society of Appraisers and the North Orange County Community College District. He has authored a series of articles regarding Uniform Standards of Professional Appraisal Practice (USPAP) and the Financial Institutions Reform Recovery Enforcement Act (FIRREA), as well as a variety of other appraisal topics. He has had speaking engagements at the prestigious Monterey Bay Seminar in 1997, 1998, 1999, 2003, 2006, and 2011. He was also presenter at the 1997 American Society of Appraisers (ASA) International Convention in Houston, Texas. He developed the Real Property Educational program on Automated Valuation Models for the 1998 ASA International Convention in Maui, Hawaii. He was also an invited speaker and had an article published on AVMs for VALUATION 2000, the first convention representing all the major appraisal organizations. Mr. Wilson developed and presented a new seminar entitled going Concern for Real Estate Appraisers at the 2002 ASA International Convention in San Diego. He has also developed specialized seminars for the Colorado Association of Tax Appraisers and the Minnesota Department of Transportation as well as Wells Fargo Bank. He has provided consultation services to the Federal Home Loan Mortgage Corporation (Freddie Mac) at their headquarters in McLean, Virginia, and PBS. He is also the founder of The Blackwell Institute for the Study of Land Use Ethics, a “think tank” devoted to the study of approbative and normative ethics of land use.

He is also the Managing Director of Eminent Domain Today: www.eminentdomaintoday.org
